

UNIVERSITY OF LEEDS
SCHOOL OF POLITICS AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

ADMISSIONS POLICY
2018

This document outlines the School of Politics and International Studies (POLIS) Admissions Policy for 2018 entry. It supports the admissions principles and policies of the University of Leeds, as outlined in the University of Leeds Undergraduate Admissions Policy (http://ses.leeds.ac.uk/download/1212/undergraduate_admissions_policy_2018) and should be considered alongside this document. This policy will be reviewed on an annual basis.

The School of Politics and International Studies Admissions Policy applies to the following programmes:

- BA Politics (L200) (from which it is possible to transfer to BA Politics (International) or BA Politics (Industrial))
- BA International Relations (L254) (from which it is possible to transfer to BA International Relations (International) or BA International Relations (Industrial))
- BA International Development (L920) (from which it is possible to transfer to BA International Development (International) or BA International Development (Industrial))
- BA Economics and Politics (LL12) (from which it is possible to transfer to BA Economics and Politics (International) or BA Economics and Politics (Industrial))

1. Principles

The School of Politics and International Studies ensures that the selection process provides equal consideration for applicants who apply by the relevant closing date. All selection decisions are made on the basis of merit and the ability of each applicant to meet the academic and non-academic criteria for admission to the relevant programme of study.

2. Selection principles

The School of Politics and International Studies will treat all applicants fairly and not discriminate unlawfully on grounds of their age; disability; gender; gender identity; pregnancy or maternity status; race; religion or belief; or sexual orientation.

3. Application process

3.1 UCAS process

All full time undergraduate applications must be made through the online Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (www.ucas.com) by 15th January for UK/EU applicants and 30th June for International applicants.

The School of Politics and International Studies might accept applications after the initial UCAS closing date, however it is recommended that you contact us prior to making an application to check. The School of Politics and International Studies does participate in the UCAS Extra scheme.

3.2 Access to Leeds and Realising Opportunities scheme

We are committed to identifying all applicants who have the potential to succeed at the University of Leeds. Applicants who meet two of the following criteria are eligible to apply for the Access to Leeds scheme:

- From a household with an annual income of £25,000 or below OR in receipt of 16-19 Bursary Fund or Discretionary Learner Support with income threshold of £25,000, OR in receipt of free school meals during their GCSE studies
- In the first generation of their immediate family to apply to higher education
- Attends, or have attended, a school which achieved less than the national average of 5 A* to C or 9 to 4 passes (including English & Maths) at GCSE
- Only option is to attend a local university
- Studies disrupted by circumstances in their personal, social or domestic lives
- Live in a geographical area with low levels of progression onto higher education
- Living or grew up in public care.

Access to Leeds applicants receive special consideration from admissions tutors and those who receive an offer are given an alternative offer alongside their standard offer.

The alternative offer will be conditional upon successfully completing the Access to Leeds module and making the University of Leeds their firm choice as well as:

- A reduction of two A Level grades (across two of three A Levels, if taken), OR
- An equivalent reduction where alternative qualifications are offered

Access to Leeds students are eligible for an Access to Leeds offer if they meet the University's GCSE matriculation standard and, for courses which require particular subject skills, have gained at least a grade C/4 (or equivalent) in the requested subject area, although many applicants to highly selective courses present with higher than the minimum GCSE requirements. For more information on Access to Leeds please refer to http://www.leeds.ac.uk/info/128005/applying/33/alternative_admissions/2

Applicants already participating in the Realising Opportunities scheme receive the same additional consideration and alternative offer as Access to Leeds applicants.

Applicants who do not meet the standard criteria for an offer but are Access to Leeds eligible will be considered for an offer that is "Access to Leeds only" and require successful completion of the Access to Leeds module in order to have their place confirmed. Such applicants must meet the University's GCSE matriculation standard and, for courses which require particular subject skills, have gained at least a grade C/4 (or equivalent) in the requested subject area.

3.3 Deferred applications/ Gap-Year

The School of Politics and International Studies will accept applications for deferred entry. We welcome applications from applicants who are intending to undertake a Gap Year. We encourage such applicants to make use of the personal statement section of the UCAS application form to explain their reasons for taking a Gap Year.

Applicants who wish to defer following the submission of their application must do so prior to the confirmation of a place. For offer holders whose first language is not English, English language qualifications must also be valid at your revised start date.

Applicants may normally apply for deferred entry for one academic year only. If an applicant wishes to defer again, they must reapply and contact the Academic School.

3.4 Re-sits/ Re-applications

The School of Politics and International Studies will accept applications from applicants who have re-submitted applications and/or re-sat examinations.

Applicants who wish to reapply should contact the School of Politics and International Studies prior to making an application. Any decision on the eligibility of applicants who have previously held an offer of a place but failed to achieve the academic conditions at first attempt is an academic judgement. Such candidates should be aware that no guarantee can be given that another offer will be made, and that the conditions of any future offer may differ to those of the original.

3.5 Early Examinations

The School of Politics and International Studies recognises that some applicants may have studied a more flexible curriculum, where they have been able to progress through their educational development at an appropriate rate according to their ability, this may be as early GCSEs or A-levels (or equivalent) across three years.

Typically we would expect applicants to have completed three A-levels (or equivalent) in one sitting. If this has not been the case, then we advise the school provides further information as to reasons for this within the academic reference section of the UCAS form.

3.6 Cashed in AS Levels

The University of Leeds is committed to ensuring that applications are considered holistically. We take a broad view of the full information available in the UCAS application form and use all the information provided as part of our decision making process. We therefore strongly encourage all applicants to declare their cashed in AS results. We recognise that some A-level students will no longer sit AS levels. This group will not be disadvantaged in the decision making process at Leeds.

3.7 Internal transfers

The School of Politics and International Studies will accept applications from applicants who wish to transfer internally from other programmes at the University of Leeds, providing places are available. Applicants are required to submit a personal statement, a reference from their current school and a note of their student ID number. There is no requirement to complete the current year of study and the entry requirements remain the same.

3.8 External transfers

The School of Politics and International Studies will accept applications from applicants who wish to transfer onto one of our courses from other institutions, providing places are available. Applicants are expected to meet the standard academic entry requirements.

3.9 Advanced Entry

The School of Politics and International Studies will consider applications from applicants who are seeking entry to the second year. All applications must be made through UCAS by 30th June. To be eligible you must demonstrate:

- Meet first year requirements
- Learning outcomes of year 1 of the relevant programme against which advanced standing is sought have been met
- Achieve a minimum 60% average in your first year study

Judgements on equivalence are made by the Admissions Tutor. Entry onto Level 3 of the School of Politics and International Studies is not permitted.

3.10 Joint Honours applications

The University of Leeds offers the most varied selection of two-subject degrees in the country. For the current range of Joint Honours programmes offered within the School of Politics and International Studies please refer to <http://www.polis.leeds.ac.uk/undergraduates/joint-honours> for further information and entry requirements.

3.11 Extended degree programmes

Where applicants do not have the formal qualifications for immediate entry to a degree course, progression may be possible through one of the University's extended degree programmes with foundation year. Please see Appendix A of the University of Leeds undergraduate admissions policy, or the Lifelong Learning Centre website for details <http://www.llc.leeds.ac.uk/course-directory>.

Progression from BA Social Science (L301) Foundation Degree

Students that complete level 0 of this programme are considered as internal applicants and do not need to complete a UCAS application. The standard offer for School of POLIS programmes is a Pass with 60% overall.

3.12 Age and Safeguarding

The University recognises someone's young age (if under 18) or safeguarding position may need to be taken into account. For full details of the University policy please see http://www.leeds.ac.uk/secretariat/documents/safeguarding_policy.pdf

3.13 International/ Overseas students

Teaching, assessment and student support will take place in English, unless otherwise stated. Schools must be confident that candidates have the proficiency in English language necessary to succeed on the chosen programme of study and that they meet the UKVI minimum requirements to obtain a Tier 4 visa.

All applications from international students are considered in line with our standard entrance requirements, (typically expressed as GCE A-level qualifications) and we would expect predicted grades to be of an equivalent level. Proof of English Language proficiency will be required and minimum levels and approved tests for the School of Politics and International Studies are detailed below:

- IELTS: 6.5, with no less than 6.0 in each component.
- TOEFL (internet-based test): 92 with not less than 21 in listening, 21 in reading, 23 in speaking and 22 in writing.

All applicants require a minimum level of English in order to meet our matriculation standards. Applicants for whom English is not their first language may require an additional English language qualification to gain entry to the University of Leeds and will be made an offer which is conditional on successful completion of one of the approved tests, or one of the University of Leeds pre-sessional English language courses. A list of applicants who are not required to undertake further English language tests can be found on our Language centre website at http://www.leeds.ac.uk/arts/info/125008/english_language

Certain qualifications, e.g. IELTS, have a 2 year validity period and must be valid at the commencement of studies. Further information for prospective international applicants can be found on our website at <http://www.leeds.ac.uk/international/>

Overseas applicants and applicants from non-EU countries should note that student visa regulations will not normally allow study on a part-time basis.

3.14 Mature applicants

Mature students, those who will be over 21 at the point of entry, wishing to study on a full-time basis should apply using standard UCAS procedure (See section 3.1). Applicants are assessed on the basis of their UCAS form, as detailed in section 4. An interview and/or piece of assessed written work/test may also be offered as part of the entry process.

Support is available through the Lifelong Learning Centre (LLC) and includes pre-entry advice, guidance and preparatory programmes for adults, developing academic skills before entry and information on a range of issues relevant to such applicants. For further details, contact: lifelonglearning@leeds.ac.uk, phone 0113 343 3212 or see www.llc.leeds.ac.uk.

3.15 Part time applicants

Applications for part-time undergraduate study should be made directly to the Lifelong Learning Centre rather than through UCAS.

Support is available through the Lifelong Learning Centre (LLC) and includes pre-entry advice, guidance and preparatory programmes for adults, developing academic skills before entry and information on a range of issues relevant to such applicants. For further details, contact: lifelonglearning@leeds.ac.uk, phone 0113 343 3212 or see www.llc.leeds.ac.uk.

3.16 Disabled applicants

The School of Politics and International Studies welcomes applications from disabled people¹. The University will make appropriate adjustments, with the aim of ensuring that disabled applicants have full and equal access to our admissions procedures and courses. Information about disability is not used when considering your academic eligibility for your chosen programme of study. It is reviewed in order to identify your potential study-related support requirements, and your eligibility for disability-related support funding, so that the University can ensure you are supported effectively on your course.

Applicants are invited to indicate their disability status on their application form and we strongly encourage applicants to disclose any disability. The University will always aim to make appropriate adjustments for disabled applicants. However, applicants who choose not to disclose their disability should be aware that it may be more difficult, or in rare cases impossible, to make the appropriate adjustments. Disabled applicants are also advised to contact the University's Disability Services team (part of the University's Student Education Service) once an application has been submitted through UCAS, to discuss any support requirements they may have in relation to the programme for which they have applied. Disability Services can be contacted at disability@leeds.ac.uk.

If any applicant feels that their disability has meant that they have faced exceptional circumstances which should be taken into account by the University when considering their application, they should refer to section 4.11 of the University's Undergraduate admissions policy (http://ses.leeds.ac.uk/download/1212/undergraduate_admissions_policy_2018)

The admissions process is covered by the University's Policy on Equality and Inclusion which is available from the University's Equality Policy Unit at www.equality.leeds.ac.uk

3.17 Applicants with a health-related issue or other mitigating circumstances

The University of Leeds Undergraduate Admissions Policy details our policy concerning applicants with a health related issue or additional support needs. The School sees health-related issues² as being distinct from disability-related issues, although, of course, in some cases, a disabled applicant may also have a health-related issue.

Applicants with a health-related issue should contact the School as soon as possible if their health is likely to impact on their ability to engage with the admissions process.

¹ The University is committed to the social model of disability and in line with the definition under the Equality Act 2010 defines a disabled person as someone with a physical or mental impairment which is long-term (lasting 12 months or more) and which has a substantial impact of that person's ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. The definition of disability includes long-term medical conditions such as cancer (from the point of diagnosis), epilepsy, diabetes, Chronic Fatigue Syndrome/ME and HIV/AIDS amongst others.

² Which are not classed as a "disability".

If a candidate feels that any disability, prior ill-health – or personal circumstances other than ill-health (for example, bereavement or other difficult home or family circumstances) – may have affected their previous education, or may have affected the grades they received in past examinations, then they are also welcome to contact the School to discuss this further. All formal requests for mitigating circumstances to be taken into account in the admissions process should be supported by a full declaration about the nature of the circumstances.

Where these circumstances are affecting or have affected current studies the correct course of action would be to notify the relevant exam board of the circumstances. Whilst you are welcome to notify (via a verified statement) the relevant admissions office of the circumstances, the University will assume that the relevant exam board will take the circumstances into consideration and any mitigating circumstances have been taken into account in the final grades. These final grades are what will be used when making a decision.

3.18 Support for applicants who are pregnant

In line with the University policy on support for students who are pregnant or have young children (available from <http://www.equality.leeds.ac.uk/university-policies-2/>), applicants who are pregnant are advised to inform their Admissions Tutor at an early stage. This is so that consideration can be given to appropriate support being available from the start of their programme of study.

3.19 Criminal convictions

The University has a Policy statement on students with criminal records http://www.leeds.ac.uk/secretariat/documents/applicants_students_criminal_record.pdf This Policy includes applicants seeking admission. It should be noted that if an applicant is required to disclose a criminal offence and fails to do so this will generally be considered a very serious matter and is likely to lead to their application being rejected or, if admitted, to their registration at the University being revoked. Having a prior criminal record will not necessarily prevent an applicant from being offered a place; this may depend, for example, on the nature, timing and relevance of the criminal offence in question. The University may request further information about the nature or context of an applicant's criminal record.

Where indicated in the prospectus or on the University's website, specific programmes may involve regular access to children and/or vulnerable adults, and applicants may be required to undertake with satisfactory results, certain checks with the Disclosure and Barring Service. The University will send further instructions as part of the admissions process where this is the case.

Section 4: Admissions Requirements

4.1 Admissions intake

Details are given below of the typical annual intake through UCAS for each programme within the School of Politics and International Studies. The figure given is for home students, including mature students and those from the European Union. International fee-paying students are considered separately and are not included in these figures.

Programme	Places	Applications
BA Politics	64	450
BA International Relations	60	480
BA International Development	27	245
BA Economics and Politics	18	300

4.2 Competition for places

Programmes within the School of Politics and International Studies are generally very popular and we receive in excess of 1800 applications for the 169 places available. Most of our applicants have an excellent academic record.

4.3 Selection process

All applications must be made online through the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (www.ucas.com). Academic grades normally form only one part of the final decision and the following sections give examples of how applicants may demonstrate that they have the skills, knowledge and attributes that we believe will enable them to become successful students on our degree programmes.

The selection criteria will be applied ensuring that we treat all students fairly and not discriminate unlawfully on grounds of their age; disability; gender; gender identity; pregnancy or maternity status; race; religion or belief; or sexual orientation.

The admissions process is covered by the University's Policy on Equality and Inclusion which is available from the University's Equality Policy Unit at www.equality.leeds.ac.uk/university-policies-2/.

4.4 Academic entrance requirements

The School of Politics and International Studies welcomes applications from applicants studying a range of Level 3 equivalent qualifications where students have the potential to succeed on their chosen degree course.

Please see <http://www.polis.leeds.ac.uk/undergraduates/entry-requirements> for the programme list of entry requirements and accepted qualifications. The School of Politics and International Studies sets its entry requirements to ensure success on its programmes. For this reason requirements may differ between programmes and to the minimum/guideline qualification equivalences set out in Appendix A of the University Admissions Policy.

We recognise the value, effort and enthusiasm applicants make in the Extended Project and may include it as part of an alternative conditional offer.

Entrance requirements may be reviewed and amended at the end of an admissions cycle based on the performance of the previous year's cohort.

4.5 Personal statement advice

The personal statement of the UCAS form helps us to assess the nature of the applicant's interest in the academic subject and is an important part of the selection process. Accurate spelling and grammar are of paramount importance. It is essential that applicants take this opportunity to demonstrate their enthusiasm and aptitude for the academic subject. We wish to hear about:

- Interest in and commitment to the subject
- Social and cultural awareness
- Responsibility
- Non-academic interests and activities

4.6 Interviews

Interviews do not form part of our standard admissions process, however in some cases applicants may be invited for interview to further discuss their motivations for studying the course. Generally, non-standard applicants will be invited for interview which is normally held in the School and is quite informal. The applicant is provided with the opportunity to demonstrate their interest in the discipline, their commitment and capacity to study at undergraduate level. They must also provide a piece of written work from a recent essay or assignment, or may be given an essay title to complete. You will receive a written invitation from the School to attend an interview on a specific time or date. Please let us know as soon as possible if you require an alternative date using the contact details in your invitation letter. We will do our best to accommodate such requests but this cannot be guaranteed.

Section 5: Offers

Offers are made on the basis of merit and the ability of each applicant to meet the academic and non-academic criteria for admission to the relevant programme of study. Offers are made based on the information supplied on the UCAS form and performance at interview where applicable (see section above). The University of Leeds Undergraduate Admissions Policy gives further detail on the type of offers that are made.

5.1 Confirmation

Each offer is specific to an applicant's individual qualifications and circumstances. Applicants must meet the conditions set by the University by 31 August of the application year unless otherwise stated in the prescribed course or professional body requirements, even if the offer is deferred for entry to the following application year.

5.2 Re-marks

The School of Politics and International Studies may not be able to confirm a place in the upcoming academic cycle following an improved final grade after a re-mark, however applicants may be offered a deferred place or asked to reapply.

5.3 Deferred applicants

Where a deferred applicant does not meet the conditions of their offer they may not have their place confirmed.

5.4 Reasons for unsuccessful applications

Due to the volume of applications received we may have to reject students who already hold or are predicted lower than the typical academic entry requirement, and also many students who meet the non-academic requirements. The UCAS forms of applicants who are unsuccessful in gaining a place on their chosen programme may be passed to the admissions tutors for other courses in which the applicant may be interested. The School reserves the right to reject an applicant who is considered to be unsuitable (e.g. lack of obvious motivation to study the programme applied for, or an extremely unsupportive reference).

5.2 Feedback

Unsuccessful applicants may wish to request feedback on the reason for the outcome of their application. All requests for feedback must be made in writing or via email to the relevant Student Education Officer and signed by the applicant or from the email address listed on their UCAS form. Generally where applicants request feedback on why they have not been admitted, feedback will be given.

5.3 Complaints

The School of Politics and International Studies will consider all applications fairly and effectively in line with the procedures outlined in this document and the University of Leeds Undergraduate Admissions Policy.

Applicants who wish to challenge a decision to reject their application should write to Professor Jason Ralph, Head of School of POLIS, j.d.ralph@leeds.ac.uk tel: 01133434429, detailing the nature of their complaint. The complaint must typically be made within 14 days of the decision. Full details of the complaints procedure can be found in the University of Leeds Undergraduate Admissions Policy.

Section 6: Opportunities to visit

6.1 University open days

The University of Leeds Undergraduate Open Days are usually held in June, September and October and are designed for prospective applicants rather than those who have already been made an offer. Details can be found on our open day webpage: http://www.leeds.ac.uk/info/30335/open_days

6.2 Applicant visit days

All applicants to whom we have made offers are invited to attend a School of Politics and International Studies applicant visit day. Attendance is not compulsory and does not form part of the selection process. The purpose of the Post-application visit day is to enable applicants to familiarise themselves with the department and the programme of study in order that they are able to make an informed choice about whether or not to accept their offer. Unless you are specifically informed in advance, you will not be required to undertake an interview as part of this visit.

Section 7: Scholarships & funding

The University of Leeds has one of the most comprehensive financial support packages available. One in three students qualifies for a bursary and in addition we have a series of scholarships. For further information about scholarships available and other types of financial support visit http://www.leeds.ac.uk/info/128004/fees_and_funding/15/fees

For scholarships awarded on the basis of academic achievement, eligibility will be determined by the entry requirements and qualification equivalencies for the programme you have applied to so may differ between Schools and Programmes – please check our course listings and scholarship page for further information on these.
