Visiting Disabled Students' Assessment and Support (DSAS)

We are based in the Chemistry West building. You can find our location on the campus map – Building 55A

How to find us:

Accessible pedestrian route

The easiest way to find us is to start from the Parkinson Building. This is the big grey building with the clock tower on top, and the stone steps at the front.

From the Parkinson steps:

Start on the steps of the Parkinson Building, with your back to the building. Go down the steps and follow the pavement around to your right. Walk under the big square arches onto the main campus, and go up the ramped pathway, past the entrance to Baines Wing on your right; keep going straight ahead up the pathway, past the Great Hall on your right. After the Great Hall you will see the Clothworkers Court on your right (a gated entrance with a stone archway and metal gate); go through the gate, into the Clothworkers courtyard and head diagonally across the courtyard towards the square archway on your right (by the side of the Great Hall). Go through the square archway and past the School of Media and Communications on your left, then keep going straight ahead, past the School of Media and Communications, and you will see the entrance to Disabled Students' Assessment and Support (Chemistry West – building 55A on the Campus Map) in front of you.

From Leeds University Union:

From outside the University Union on the concourse, turn to the right and head down the pathway in the direction of the Marjorie and Arnold Ziff building. After about 15-20 metres you will go through some green metal gate posts, and see 18 Beechgrove Terrace on your right. Turn immediately left and walk towards the archway entrance into Clothworkers Court (a gated entrance with a stone archway and metal gate); go through the gate, into the Clothworkers courtyard and head diagonally across the courtyard towards the square archway on your right (by the side of the Great Hall). Go through the square archway and past the School of Media and Communications on your left, then keep going straight ahead, past the School of Media and Communications, and you will see the entrance to Disabled Students' Assessment and Support (Chemistry West – building 55A on the Campus Map) in front of you.

From the Marjorie and Arnold Ziff Building:

From the bottom entrance of the Ziff building, walk up the hill towards the main road and the Parkinson Steps. Before you get to the Parkinson Steps, turn left under the big square arches onto the main campus. Go up the ramped pathway, past the entrance to Baines Wing on your right; keep going straight ahead up the pathway, past the Great Hall on your right. After the Great Hall you will see the Clothworkers Court on your right (a gated entrance with a stone archway and metal gate); go through the gate, into the Clothworkers courtyard and head diagonally across the courtyard towards the square archway on your right (by the side of the Great Hall). Go through the square archway and past the School of Media and Communications on your left, then keep going straight ahead, past the School of Media and Communications, and you will see the entrance to Disabled Students' Assessment and Support (building 55A on the Campus Map) in front of you.

Directions by car

These are directions to get to the disabled parking spaces outside our building. To access this parking, you will need a blue parking badge and will need to contact us in advance to ensure access through the security gate.

From Leeds City Centre: Go past the main entrance and the Parkinson building (on your left) on Woodhouse Lane (this is the big grey building with the clock tower on top, and the stone steps at the front). Immediately after, there is a set of traffic lights, and then immediately after that, on the left, there is a vehicle entry point, with a cobbled entrance; drive into this entrance. There is a barrier with an intercom buzzer, which says 'Barrier A' on it; if you ring the buzzer, security will let you in. Follow the road and bear to your left, going through the square archway. Follow the road round to your right, and there are disabled parking spaces on the right, just outside our building. When you leave, you should go back through the square archway, and then follow the exit signs down Cemetery Road.

From North Leeds / Headingley: Follow Woodhouse Lane in the direction of the City Centre. You will pass Hyde Park on your right (a large open park) and will come to a junction with a set of traffic lights at the top of the park; there is a pub on the right called The Library. Keep on going straight ahead towards the City Centre, passing the large grey buildings on your right, which are part of the University. Go through another set of traffic lights (pedestrian crossing) and keep going straight ahead; you should see an open space between the buildings, on your right, with a lawn and some trees. There is another junction ahead, with traffic lights, where the road splits into lanes; bear to the right, and just as the right-hand lane widens, there is a vehicle entry point on the other side of the road (to your right), with a cobbled entrance. Drive into this entrance. There is a barrier with an intercom buzzer, which says 'Barrier A' on it; if you ring the buzzer, security will let you in. Follow the road and bear to your left, going through the square archway. Follow the road round to your right, and there are disabled parking spaces on the right, just outside our building. When you leave, you should go back through the square archway, and then follow the exit signs down Cemetery Road.
